

Designed and Installed Projects

Truck and RV Accessory Manufacturer – spray system control

The customer wanted to reduce lubricant consumption and clean up the fluid application on their production tube bending operation. A system was designed that provides electronic timing and sequencing of the spray system. A pneumatically triggered, air atomizing spray head was added to provide precise control of the spray pattern. Fluid and air pressure regulators allow finite control of the fluid delivery and spray characteristics.